A. & G.W. TIMBER SEIZED BY GOVT. FOR DEFAULT IN DUES

Dominion Authorities Will Sell Timber at Auction—Does Not Affect Dr. Dr. Mc-Innis, Timber Contractor, Who Has
Claim for $10,000 for Work Done

For default in payment of the full dues for timber cutting, all the timber that has been cut by the Alberta and Great Waterways Railway Company, for the purpose of ties, fence posts, etc., has been seized by the Dominion government, agents, and will be offered for sale on February 7th.

This is the announcement that was made from the Dominion land office this morning and furnishes a new development in the whole matter of the elimination of the Alberta and Great Waterways Railway Company.

There is still $2500, or about 80 per cent. of the dues paid on the timber cut. The other 20 per cent. was paid by the railway company some time ago.

Early last spring, the Great Waterways Railway Company awarded a contract to Dr. H. L. McInnis of the Empire Supply Co. for the cutting of all ties, fence posts, piling and telegraph poles, necessary for the construction of the railway. The contract amounted to several hundred thousands.

Dr. McInnis sent sub-contractors out to do the work. His contract with the railway company provided that the railway company would pay all dues necessary on the timber. This relieves Dr. McInnis from any encumbrance as a result of the latest development in the matter.

The timber cut was as follows: 91,075 ties, 2,503 fence posts, 75,000 lineal feet of bridge timber, over 3000 telegraph poles and 11,000 feet of piling. On this only 20 per cent. of the dues had been paid by the railway company. Hence the seizure.

Dr. McInnis will still have a claim against the provincial government for the amount of his contract to the extent of the timber cut. He is affected in no way by the seizure of the timber by the Dominion government, he stated to The Capital this morning. He explained that his contract read that the railway company were to pay the dues.

Under Premier Sifton's legislation, Dr. McInnis' claim will be considered by the provincial government and probably paid by them, as it is a claim which arises out of the cancellation of the Waterways contract. Dr. McInnis has not yet filed his claim with the government which will amount to about $10,000, but will do so shortly.

AMBULANCE CORPS TO BE ORGANIZED IN CITY

FIRST PROVINCIAL BRANCH OF ST. JOHN'S ORGANIZA-TION WILL BE ESTABLISHED IN EDMONTON THIS WEEK BY GENERAL SECRETARY OF ASSOCIATION

At 4.30 in the Y.M.C.A. on Tuesday afternoon, the first provincial branch of the St. John's Ambulance Corps of Alberta, of the St. John's Ambulance Corps, of Canada, will be organized, under the direction of Capt. R. S. Birdwhistle of Ottawa, general secretary of the association.

Capt. Birdwhistle reached the city last night and is a guest at the King Edward. To a Capital reporter in an interview last evening, he explained some of the aims and objects on the association, and its methods.

Already Capt. Birdwhistle has, since the formation of the Canadian association last February, organized provincial associations in the eastern and Maritime provinces, and is now

GERMAN-AMERICANS ARE MIGRATING TO ALBERTA

WILL FORM COLONY IN VICINITY OF EDMONTON—
SECOND DETACHMENT, 23 STRONG, ARRIVED IN THE CITY ON SATURDAY

Twenty-three German-Americans, to pick up and come to Alberta. arrived at the immigration hall on Saturday night from Montana. They are the second division of a large number that are coming from that state, intending to form a German colony in the neighborhood of Edmonton. The first bunch, fourteen in number, arrived on December 17th, and are living around the city until spring when they can go onto homesteads. As soon as the remainder who are still in Montana have disposed of their land there they will come also.

Last summer the colony sent two land prospectors out to look over the land in Alberta. They returned in the fall and reported to their countrymen that the land was better than that which they were holding in Billings, Montana, so the entire colony numbering several hundred in all decided

They have not yet decided where they will settle, the land prospectors who looked over the land last summer being unable to decide which was the best. In the spring when the cold weather is over the whole bunch will break up all scattering over the country, and when they have found a tract of land large enough and suitable for the colony they will settle together. So far forty members of the colony have arrived. It is expected that there will be at least one hundred more. They are all well to do farmers in Montana and hold large tracts of land come. Only that they are having difficulty which they must sell before they can finally disposing of their holdings there, they would all be here now. Those that are here will live in the city until spring before going to their homesteads.

SEVERE STORM STRIKES WEST

Trains Are Delayed by Heavy Snowfall—Mercury Drops to Forty Below

Saskatoon, Sask., Jan. 9.—The worst storm since memorable winter of 1907 swept this district yesterday and today and has resulted in much delay in the train service and many tales of hardship and innumerable cases of frost bite. The Grand Trunk Pacific train from Winnipeg was reported this morning five hours late and has not yet reached here though last night's east bound was on time. The C. P. R. local from Yorkton is also two hours late while C. N. R. express from Winnipeg arrived three hours late, due to bad fill ups on track east of Regina.

C. N. R. main line trains are both late while the Goose lake trains are having much difficulty. Telephone and telegraph wires are also badly demoralized. More snow has fallen this year so far than on any previous winter for four years.

Regina, Jan. 9.—With fierce narrow searching north winds whistling and snow falling heavily Regina for the tenth time in as many days is in the grip of a real blizzard. The mercury is ranging from ten to forty below zero and the wind makes it seem sixty.

Trains are running from one to six hours late and the service is steadily becoming worse as the storm grows in severity. Saturday was clear and the streets are drifted many feet deep in places and the country districts report the worst of a series of terrible storms.

CANADA'S ENVOYS NOW IN WASHINGTON

Representatives of Dominion and United States Meet to Discuss Tariff Problem

Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—A determined effort to lay the foundation for a reciprocity treaty between the United States and Canada was initiated yesterday when Secretary Knox welcomed at the state department the representatives of the Canadian government. Mr. Knox explained to the Canadian envoys the powers conferred upon the representatives of the state department and the purposes of the United States government in the negotiations.

There were six members of the conference assembled in the office of the state department assigned to the negotiators Charles P. Anderson, Charles M. Pepper and John B. Osborn of the United States, and W. S. Patterson, minister of finance; Wm. Patterson, minister of customs for Canada, and Secretary Knox. Indications are that the negotiations will consume at least a week's time. There is an enormous quantity of detail to be considered and the tariff schedules of both countries will be subjected to careful study in the various lines likely to be affected by any changes in the customs duties.

There will be a meeting of all the chapters of the Daughters of the Empire in Edmonton and Strathcona Wednesday afternoon at half past three, in All Saints schoolroom. A full attendance is requested.

CHARGED WITH MURDER

Regina, Sask., Jan. 9.—Emile Bengelt, a young Frenchman, has been arrested by the city police, charged with the murder of Adelaide LeGrande, a married woman 54 years of age, who resided in a small town in France. The woman was found with her head nearly severed and the crime is supposed to have been committed in June, 1910.

The police have received evidence from France that he was not yet been translated. French officials are asking that the man be held for a certain period pending a request for extradition. The case will come up before Judge Wetmore this week.

EXPECTS AN ADVANCE IN WHEAT PRICES

Prominent Wheat Man Looks for Prices to Jump Ten Cents Be-

Winnipeg, Jan. 9.—I expect to see May wheat sell to cents higher before March 1st, said R. W. McKinnon, one of the biggest wheat men on the continent who is looking over the local situation. He bases his opinion that the American crop of 62,000,000 bushels is over estimated. Amours have accumulated twenty million bushels of wheat, he says, and this is significant.

FIRE INSPECTOR MAY BE APPOINTED

Committee Will Recommend Building Inspector Cease Supervision of Construction

Increased salaries for 90% of the officials of the building inspectors department, and the appointment of an additional man, to act as fire inspector during the winter months, will be recommended by the public works committee in their report on the scope of the building inspector's duties tomorrow evening.

The staff of the department now consists of the inspector, one inside and one outside assistant, and the plumbing inspector. The fire inspector will act as an assistant to the building inspector during the summer months.

Supervision of construction will cease to be one of the duties of the building inspector if the report of the committee is adopted by the council tomorrow evening. Last year the inspector supervised all city construction and it was the policy of Com. Bonillon to place all such work under his care. This policy the public works committee would reverse, recommending that the inspector confine himself strictly to inspection.

They six hours were spent by the committee last week in consideration of the new building bylaw, which will be ready for presentation to the council in the course of a few days. It will not be ready for tomorrow's meeting. The current estimates of the building department will not be materially affected by the change which the public works committee recommend. The increases in salaries, and the addition of another member to the staff will balance the reduction on account of limitation of the scope of the department.

RAILWAY CONTRACTORS ARE ARRIVING IN EDMONTON

Making Arrangements for Construction of Lines Radiating in All Directions From Edmonton.

Big railway contractors who held contracts on the Prairie creek section of the G.T.P., and who have completed their work for some time, are beginning to gather in the city again to make arrangements for the various parts of the States, for the purpose of looking over new work for next summer.

Within the next month these contractors will have all reached the city again, and will be figuring on sub-contracts on the rock work, and heavy grading west of the Athabasca river. Last evening several of them reached the city, including Ed. Phelan, of Phelan and Shirley, the main sub-contractor for the Prairie creek section, and D. Fitzgerald, another large contractor. They are guests at the King Edward.

Foley, Welch and Stewart now hold the contract for the extension of the G.T.P., as far west as Tete Juan Cattle, and within a few weeks, sub-contracts will be awarded on this work. Much of it can be carried on through the winter.

in a great part of the northern part of the Province of seven thousand square miles in extent and containing a popu-

Morgan, Standard Trust Company, Great Waterways Co. and Canada West Co.

May All be Drawn Into Action—
Separate Suits May be Started.

Indications are becoming stronger every day that the fight between the province and the banks holding the Waterways money, will be one of the biggest legal tangles ever tried in the country, and is likely to extend over more than a year.

That Premier Sifton and the provincial attorney-general's department will have bigger interests to deal with than the Royal, Dominion and Union banks, in their action to secure control of the money, is certain.

It is now probable that not only the banks, but the bond holders, for which Morgan, of New York is sponsor, the Standard Trust Company, which made the agreement between Morgan, the province, and the railway company, the Alberta and Great Waterways, and the Canada West Construction company, will all be drawn into the fight.

Although the province has taken action in the courts against the banks, it is quite possible that separate suits may be started by these other interests in the Supreme court of Canada, on the ground of the breaking of the contract by the provincial government.

CHIEF OF FIRE DEPARTMENT TO HAVE A BENZINE BUGGY

ESTIMATES FOR 1911 ALSO PROVIDE FOR MOTOR DRIV-EN CHEMICAL AND PURCHASE OF TWO NEW SITES FOR SUBSTATIONS

Already metropolitan in respect to efficiency and the up-to-date character of its organization the Edmonton fire department will shortly be brought into line with the larger American and Canadian cities by the down to the minute character of its equipment. The estimates for capital expenditure for 1911 provide for the purchase of a motor driven chemical and hose combination wagon with a capacity of 50 gallons of chemical, estimated to cost $6500. Chief Davidson will be provided with an automobile for his special use, and will be the one citizen of Edmonton who will have the privilege of exceeding the speed limit. His car will cost $2500, and will be equipped with two brand extinguishers.

In his report on the adoption of the combination chemical engine and hose wagon, Chief Davidson refers to the experience of other cities in motor-driven equipment. In Youngstown, Ohio, where hills, and muddy streets are obstacles against which the department have to contend, a wagon such as it is proposed should be adopted there has been run for the last 15 months at a total cost for maintenance of $98.

When this is compared with the cost of a team of horses at $10 a month, and of a driver at $60 a month, it will be seen that the saving by the adoption of the more modern system will be a most substantial one.

In the estimates for equipment provision will be made also for an aerial ladder truck with 75 feet extension ladder, mail loaders and other equipment, the whole to be for the purchase of sites for future substations. Since the property on First street on which the new firehall has been built, was purchased, the value of the land has doubled, and a similarly large increase has accrued to the Sixteenth street site for No. 4 firehall, and the foresight which the fire chief displayed in securing their purchase a few years ahead has been amply justified.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE TO HOLD WINTER SCHOOLS

ADDRESSES ON TOPICS OF VITAL IMPORTANCE TO AG-RICULTURISTS AND DAIRYMEN WILL BE DELIVERED BY EXPERTS

Announcement was made this morning by Hon. Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture, of the arrangements for the holding of three short course schools under the auspices of his department at various points in the province, during February and March.

These schools, similar to those held last winter, will take place at McLeod, Innisfail and Vermilion, lasting two weeks each, and commencing February 6th. There will also be a school of a week's duration at Strathmore, in conjunction with Prof. Elliott, who is in charge of the C.P.R. experimental farms.

Prof. Elliott has assisted the department at institute work, and will during the present winter give the department assistance at this work, and in return for this the Agricultural department is sending its entire outfit of stock used at the short course schools, as well as the lecturers in less superstitions, but the pitchers, believe, are more susceptible to the left's uneasiness than any of the other diamond athletes.

STAR TWIRLER HAS FAVORITE CATCHER

Some Pitchers Will Not Work Unless They Have Particular Backstop

Of course, the various pitchers have different hobbies that they cling to at all times during their baseball careers, but a superstition of every twirler is that with certain catches receiving him he is far more effective than under other conditions. There is, perhaps, more truth than superstition in such a belief. Whatever it is, it's a tradition that has always existed among overwirlers.

Take Chief Bender of the Athletics. Any manager would be content to have Bender as a twirler with more any player doing the backstoppping. Connie Mack would, perhaps, just as soon have either Livingstone or Lane

The famous Indian heaver is decidedly partial to Catcher Inu Thomas of the Athletics. When the chief takes his place on the rubber he always insists that Thomas do the catching, providing fire isn't on the hospital list. Bender firmly believes that he is far more effective with Thomas working close with any of the other Athletics' clever catchers. Confidence is half the battle in everything and naturally the presence of Thomas behind the bat when Bender is working inspires plenty of it. Bender has won lots of games with other catchers doing the receiving, but he never seems quite so steady as when Thomas is paired up with him.

Bender and Thomas

The Indian as a race is very superstitious, and Bender is no exception to the rule. While there are scores and scores of pitchers who have their favorite catchers, still they are content to let one of the other receivers warm them up between innings, but not so with the chief. When Bender starts a game he absolutely refuses to throw a ball to anyone other than Thomas.

It is often the case that when the side is retired, the catcher happens to be a base runner. Naturally much time is consumed by him in hurrying from the base he occupied to the bench to get his mask, glove and protector, and then back to the plate.

It is customary for most managers under such conditions to send one of the other catchers up to the plate to keep the pitcher warmed up. I have seen Bender refuse to do this.

During the past summer to warm up with one of the Athletics other than Thomas. He waits for Ira and takes a chance on getting cold in preference to putting the "jims" on himself by tossing the ball to someone else. This is the one hobby that the great Indian pitcher strictly observes. It looks rather foolish, but it would be difficult to convince Bender to the contrary.

Coombs Prefers Lapp as Catcher.

Then there is Jettin Coombs, who jumped into fame by his three victories over the Cubs in the big series. While it is not generally known, Coombs won 26 of the 30 victories he scored during the 1900 season with young Jack Lapp doing the receiving. In the regular games Coombs has always expressed a preference for Lapp. Thomas caught such phenomenal ball in the

That Manager Mack tended to breast up his winning combination. Mack decided to temp fate, and told Coombs that Thomas would be his partner. The former collegian got away with his game, but it will be remembered that he was very unsteady, nothing like the Coombs of the regular season, as his nine bases on balls will testify. He won, however, and Mack was satisfied. When he sent Coombs back at the Cubs Thomas was again the catcher. Again Coombs was a winner, but he was again unsteady, always to the hole, great work in the pinches preventing disaster.

When the Cubs finally beat the Athletics in the fourth game, Mack had decided that he had tempted fate long enough. When John Coombs was announced as the pitcher for the fifth te catcher evidently had the desired effect, for Coombs pitched one of the many wonderful games he showed

YOUNG APOSTLE OF FUTURISM TELLS OF NEW MOVEMENT

IS THE HEAD OF A CREED WHICH IS MORE RADICAL THAN MODERNISM AND ATTACKS ALL
OLD TRADITIONS

London, Jan. 7.—There has just come to London a young Italian, named Signor Marinetti, who is the leader of an astonishing movement which has caused the most furious excitement in Italy, and is spreading beyond the borders of that country.

He is the apostle of "Futurism" which is a creed more modern than that of the Modernists and attacks, passionately and violently, the old traditions, the old sentiments, the old methods which are still potent in the art and politics of modern civilization. He is the enemy of romantic love, of ancient architecture, of classical art, of historic cities with their old stories and old memories, and still more furiously is he the enemy of old men in crowds.

He is so advanced in his ideals that his heroines are the militant suffragettes of England, of whose methods he approves with the heartiest enthusiasm.

Is Audacious
Certainly he has audacity, this young Italian. In the city of Venice, and before a great audience of Venetians, he denounced all that is most dear to that city and its people. Venice is rotten with romanticism! he cried. "The Venetians are the tourists of Europe. Its mouldy old palaces, its stinking old canals, are the home of erotic adventures and decadent luxury. The Futurist will pierce its mysterious shadow-world with a thousand electric lamps. They will put their trams and tramways in the roads built over the dirty canals. The city will become a great port of merchandise, bringing to the city of parasites, dwelling only in the twilight of the mouldering past a rich and busy crowd of workmen and merchants.

Needless to say, such violent words were resented with equal violence. Frightful scenes of disorder took place in the hall and blows were struck right and left. So also in Milan the audacity of the leader of the Futurist led to strife. For he dared to attack the medievalism of Dante, and the tyranny of the Dead Hand in art and literature.

Cities of Tourists
Signor Marinetti is himself a young man and also a poet and idealist with the enthusiasm and audacity of youth. To a Daily Chronicle representative he gave a more detailed explanation of his philosophy. "Although," he said, "I was born in Egypt and educated in France, I have the soul of an Italian. My heart beats for Italy, and I see that its present state is rotten. Our national life is strangled by the pulp of the dead hand. We are not allowed to move forward, according to modern necessities of life because the way is blocked by the old monuments, the old statues, the crumbling old rules and the romantic old sentiments which encumber our people. Look at Rome. Instead of being a hive of industry full of great workshops, it is a city of guides and tourists and parasites, a peep show of the world."

Signor Marinetti wants to clear away all classical traditions of painting, literature and music, and the religion of old things and old men, which he alleges is the ruin of Italy.

It's a Tragedy
"You can hardly realize," he said, "the tragedy of the young men of Italy, and the way in which their ambitions are blocked. If a man is a painter he starves himself because of the cult of the old masters. If he has any modern spirit moving him to express himself in modern terms as a poet, or musician, he is kept down and trampled upon by the old men who cherish the classical superstitions—by those worn out Antiquists again. Old age is the one standard of respectability and talent."

"The Futurists are going to alter all that. 'I only go the young man' is our watchword. Away with the rubbishy old past. Let us look to the future. Our national destiny depends on the propaganda. As inevitably as the sun rises and sets we shall have the struggle for our life against Austria. That contest is absolutely bound to come. If it comes when Venice is still sunk in the lethargy of its old romanticism, when Rome is living on its classical traditions, when Florence is nothing but a picture gallery, we are doomed."

Call of Modernity
"We, the Futurists, make the call of modernity. We want to leap ahead and lead the way even to those who call themselves modern. We are Futurists not only in a political and economic manner. Art is at present suffering in old superstitions. It is still bound in tradition—not only in Italy, but in France. I went into a picture-gallery the other day where there were 5,000 'modern' paintings. More than 5,000 of them were paintings of nude women. How absurd. In our cold climates ladies do not go naked. The modern artist should paint women in modern toilettes. He should even go forward and paint the toilettes of the future! Is there no beauty in modernity? Did not your painter Turner—who was a great and wonderful modernist—show the beauty of the steam-engine? I would have our artists paint the characteristic scenes of the new age of history: the great factories, with their smoke and flame and murky atmosphere, the docks with their crowded shipping, the towns and street scenes of modern life. I would have our poets express the modern spirit, of restlessness, of seething turmoil, of life in crowds.

Depends on Its Success.
"The existence of Italy depends upon the success of our creed, because on the one hand, as I have said, she is decaying with the petrification of dead things, and on the other she is being weakened by the most dangerous of all philosophies, the Gospel of Cowardice. Tolstoyism, and passive resistance are so debilitating the workmen of Italy that I believe that if it is not checked by the awakening spirit of Futurism, the Italian people will be a result of a sad and before a horde of wolves, when Austria marches over the frontier."

Signor Marinetti spoke with immense enthusiasm, and was certainly a striking representative of the creed of the Young Man of which he is the leader in Italy. He is to give a lecture on the subject at the Lyceum club on Tuesday.

WAS RATHER SHOCKING

Man Chastened for Instructing Misses in their Teens to Kick High

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 7.—Painted and powdered, three girls, none of whom are more than 15 years old, appeared before Police Magistrate J. J. Kirby this morning, when W. E. Hall, aged 45, and Jas. Dell, aged 22, were arraigned as a result of a raid made by detectives. The two men were arrested, while teaching the girls high kicking for a pony ballet in a show which is to have one night stands in Ohio.

May Frye, aged 13, said she had been travelling in vaudeville for a year, and though she was capable of taking care of herself, Mrs. Frye, her mother, said she thought her daughter was to play in small towns near Pittsburg.

"Do you allow your daughter to smooch herself with paint and powder like that?" asked Magistrate Kirby, of the mother of Dorothy Chappelle, who says she is 15 years old, but who appears to be 13. The mother said she did, and the magistrate waived her away, telling her she was unfit to have charge of the child.

Freda Levin, aged 14, said she was to dance in the pony ballet. Her father said he had not given her permission to do so.

Detectives Sheer and Shelvin testified that they entered the hall where the girls were practicing in gauzy skirts, and were kicking as high as possible.

Miss Nancy Oppenheimer, probation officer for the juvenile court, brought the hearing to a close by asking that the girls be turned over to her. Magistrate Kirby ordered the police to take them away from their parents and they were sent to the juvenile court detention room. Hall was sent to the workhouse for 30 days. Dell, who was to be a comedian in the show, was discharged. The police say they will raid other companies in which children are practicing.

REGINA COUNCIL Ex-Mayor Williams, of Regina, who was PUTS CITY IN the defeated in the recent municipal elections BACKWOODS CLASS in the capital of Saskatchewan by Peter McArthur, Jr., claims that he was a victim of the machinations of the Canadian Pacific Railway because he would not be a party to a scheme on the part of the big corporation to checkmate the G. T. P.

Williams tells a story of how a high C. P. R. official approached him with the offer that if Regina could induce the government to head off the building of the proposed G. T. P. line south to the boundary from the capital city, the C. P. R. would establish a general divisional point at Regina employing from the start about seven hundred men. In addition the C. P. R. would allow the G. T. P. to use the former's Regina terminals. Williams failed to carry through the scheme and he now accuses the C. P. R. of having threatened to keep him out of public life and blames the influence of that company for his defeat in the recent election.

On the day following that on which the Williams story was made public the Regina city council, held a committee meeting at which it decided to exclude the press from all future meetings. At that meeting Mayor McArthur, whom Williams accuses of being a party to the C. P. R. scheme, intimated that he would resign unless the committee meetings were made secret.

The two incidents taken together furnish one of the nicest examples of the advantages of having public business done publicly, and the danger of any other system.

There may not be any connection between the Williams story and the determination of the Regina city council to hold secret meetings, but there is certainly room for suspicion, and the city's interests could not be injured more by having its business known to the world than it could by having the shadow of suspicion hanging over the acts of its council.

The decision of the Regina council to hold its committee meetings in secret puts Regina in the backwoods class and brands the council as a body who have not the true sense of public service.

THE TIME TO It is now claimed that the high level bridge BE-ARRANGE THE tween Edmonton and Strathcona will be completed in 1911, and that before another municipal election comes around the two communities will be united physically.

While it seems like a large order for the bridge builders, it is nevertheless possible that the programme will be completed. At least the C. P. R. will not waste any time.

If so, it is up to the Edmonton council to give immediate attention to the question of municipal union.

The details which it will be necessary to work out in connection with the amalgamation of the two municipalities will require some months to accomplish, and as the completion of the bridge will mark the union of the two communities in a business sense the details should be attended to early so that the municipal union could be made to coincide.

There is now practically no argument on either side of the river against amalgamation. It is only a matter of detail. The sooner the basis is worked out the better.

TARIFF NOT PROTECTION BUT ROBBERY Immediately preceding the departure of the Canadian delegates for Washington to negotiate a reciprocity treaty, the agricultural implement manufacturers, so Ottawa reports, came to the government with a declaration that they would not object to an abolition of the duty on certain agricultural implements if they could get the raw material for the same placed on the free list and could get the same access to United States markets that the United States manufacturers got to Canadian markets.

Such a declaration would not have been made, of course, had not the manufacturers felt sure that the tariff on machinery was going to come down anyway, or be absolutely abolished. But even though coming as an eleventh-hour confession it is nevertheless confirmation of the contention which the free traders have made all along, that Canada is in as good a position to manufacture as any country in the world, and that the tariff is not a protection to any industry which has a right to thrive, but a robbery of the great natural industries of the country for the benefit of the manufacturers enjoying a special privilege to tax the real producers of the Dominion.

JUST PARAGRAPHS

In the consideration of its plan for power development on the Elbow, Calgary is all worked up about the danger of frazil ice. The name has a suggestive sort of sound—like something that would form a dangerous combination when mixed with fuel oil.

Manuel at least has one advantage over Alphonso. While he has lost his job as king he has also ceased to be the target for anarchist bombs.

The Toronto Star suggests that as the British government is confronted with the necessity of choosing a governor-general it could not get one who represented the real sentiment of the British public by appointing Lloyd-George. The Star might have added that if Lloyd-George is too busy Joe Martin would probably enjoy the job.

Colonel Sam Hughes says the farmers' delegates were all right until they started to talk. The Cuneil is correct in his diagnosis from his point of view. The loss which the farmers have sustained at the hands of protectionists of the Hughes stripe has been on account of their reticence, a handicap from which the member for Victoria does not suffer.

CANADA FOR FREE TRADE.

"Nothing in the history of the Canadian Parliament has ever equalled the scene in the House of Commons this morning." Such is the opening sentence in which the Toronto correspondent of the "Times" describes the presentation of the Free Trade memorial by eight hundred representatives of the National Council of Agriculture, drawn from every province, but deriving its main force from those virile populations which are building up the solid edifice of Canadian civilization in the West, the greatest natural granary in the world. The substance of this memorial finally destroys the fabric of assumption and assertion upon which our Protectionists have based their appeal to the imperialist temper in our people. We have, in the first place, been told that our self-governing dominions are irrevocably committed to a protective policy. Secondly, the preference accorded by Great Britain to the tariff on agricultural products is represented as designed to elicit reciprocity in kind from us. Free Trade, if maintained by us, it has been confidently asserted, will lead to a withdrawal of these preferences by our colonies, who, finding us are not prepared to meet them, will seek other beneficial arrangements with foreign States. The Canadian preference, in particular, was said to be immediately imperilled by the growing movement towards reciprocity with the United States. All these misrepresentations are brushed aside by the farmers of Canada in language as elevated as it is precise. It is not the wheat of an injured interest, praying for relief from the intolerable burden of oppressive taxes, but a dignified demand for a national finance based on sound economic and political principle. "Believing, as we do, that provision for revenue by Customs duty is economically and morally wrong, we desire that Free Trade should be established between Great Britain and Canada in as short a time as possible, without unduly deranging existing business conditions." In pursuance of this object, they propose an immediate increase of Imperial Preference from one-third to one-half, with a further annual increase of ten per cent, until the duties upon British imports are as high as those of the "Morning Post" and other Tariff Reform organs have the hardihood to suggest that the proposal for increased preference has no patriotic value whatever, but is a purely business advance. "Intended to deter Tariff Reform Government from a country from placing duties upon Canadian agricultural produce. This in face of the express declaration of the Memorialists that "Canadian farmers recognize the protection afforded to our country by the Motherland, and are willing to do their part in the maintenance of the British Empire, by supplying the British people with the food products they require in open competition with any other country."

But while with one voice our Imperialist Press imputes sordid motives for a manifestly disinterested policy of Colonial goodwill, with another equally false voice it interprets the Canadian policy as conducive to the realization of a Free-Trade Empire, with a general tariff wall against foreigners. This is equally repugnant to the spirit and the letter of the Canadian proposals. Doubtless, it is possible that, upon the one hand, the generous offer of increased preference towards Great Britain may express a distrust in certain quarters of too rapid a rapprochement to the United States; while, on the other, it may operate to secure better terms in the bargaining with that neighbor. But the notion that Canada lends any support to the absurd proposition of an economically self-sufficing British Empire, or is prepared to dismiss or damage the largest and most profitable of her markets for such a chimerical idea, is expressly repudiated in the memorial itself, which asks for "a wide measure of reciprocal trade with the United States." In fact, it is quite manifest that what this great representative gathering desires to realize is simply Free Trade moving along the several ways of least resistance. After a generation's experience of the hampering and corrupting effects of high protection, Canada is moving back to take her stand beside the Mother Country upon the sound policy of free imports. We may appear guilty of exaggeration in treating the memorial as the voice of Canada. For, under the fostering and forcing policy of the last quarter of a century, powerful manufacturing and commercial interests have obtained undue influence in governing circles. All the scandals of the Republican lobbies at Washington have found their replica at Ottawa, and the whole reform movement offered by the Memorialists against reform by means of a Commission is based upon anticipations of the ways in which corrupt interests can manipulate Commissions, undermining in detail any sound principles which may animate the Commissioners. But, though we would not disparage the importance and the political strength of the manufacturing interests which centre in Ontario, we hold them less truly representative of the destiny of Canada than the great farming communities which, scattered over that vast country, are building in the solid earth the greatest civilization of the new American nation.

Fortunately, modern methods of communication have enabled the farmers of Canada to secure effective political organization before the subsidized town industries have grown too powerful. The lesson of the United States, where the unchecked life and the too individualistic temper of the fillers of the soil made them the almost helpless prey of the keen-witted, better-organized manufacturing and transport companies, has, it appears, come home in time to the intelligent and vigorous people of the new West, who are the pioneers in this Free Trade movement. It is well that they are taking time by the forelock. For the same combination of political and economic perils which has proved so injurious to the Western States of the Republic is rapidly gathering power in Canada. Though Protection, the foster-mother of Trusts and of every sort of plunder, is their most immediate foe, they have the discernment to recognize that Free Trade alone will not secure the liberty they crave. The Tariffed trusts are not the only monopolies they have to fear. So long as the high-roads of the country, with their monopoly of transport and of storage, remain in private hands, they have no security of reaping for themselves the fruits of their industry.

For the owners of the railroads, the grain elevators, and other important "public utilities" of such a country as Canada, own and control the destinies of the whole population. Hence the Memorialists couple with Free Trade the demand for the public ownership of the proposed Hudson Bay Railway, and, of the instruments of grain storage throughout the country. This linkage of Free Trade with a considerable measure of State Socialism is a useful practical relation of the adherents logically to the old individualistic conceptions of the limits of State activity. The memorial will, undoubtedly, rank as an historical document of great significance. It marks in broad outlines the struggle of a rising people for honest government and a firm and effective control of the resources of their country.

THE BALANCE OF POWER

(Calgary Herald).
The executive committee of the board of governors of Alberta University, supposed to represent the entire province, consist of three men from Edmonton and one from Calgary. None from anywhere else.

THE PREJUDICED REPORT

(Calgary Albertan).
The grand jury may say what it pleases, but it can repeat from now until the end of time before it can make the prejudiced public believe that organized labor had any hand, near or remote, in the disaster of the Los Angeles Times building. It will need something more than opinions and indications to convince in this.

WHERE MONEY TALKS

(Calgary Albertan).
During the last three years British capital has come to Canada to the extent of 500 million dollars, or 126 million dollars more than to any other country or colony, which gives the public an idea of the interest that Britain has in Canada, for it seems that upon occasions money talks.

TIME DEALS KINDLY

(Vancouver World).
Evidence that the anxieties of public life do not tend to shorten earthly existence are found in the fact that Sir Mackenzie Bowell, ex-Prime Minister of Canada, celebrated his 75th birthday on the 25th of December, and that Sir Charles Tupper, the only other ex-Prime Minister, is in his sixtieth year. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in his seventeenth birthday fair on five many years yet. May they all be spared for some time longer!

A STRAIGHT TIP

(Regina Leader).

If the report from Ottawa is correct that Mackenzie and Mann have submitted a proposition to the Dominion Government to secure a lease of the Hudson's Bay Railway, the Laurier Government will be wise in their day and generation if they turn it down most emphatically. The people of the West will never be content to see the outlet to the Bay made a mere appendage of the C.N.R. system.

VIOLATING A HOSPITALITY

(Saskatoon Press).

The anarchists who were burned to death after a spectacular battle with the London police, were not killed for being anarchists but because they were burglars. That the burglars were anarchists was a coincidence merely, and had these desperadoes confined themselves to their regular occupation of plotting the death of kings and the downfall of constituted authority they would have been unmolested and undisturbed, as thousands of other burglars are allowed to plunder in the anarchists' "City of Refuge." There has been a well-understanding between the British authorities and the refugees from other countries, chartered kings, emperors, monarchs, etc., shall be on their good behavior as the price of their undisturbed freedom in Great Britain. Now the anarchists are showing their contempt for law in other ways than plotting and looting manufacturing for use in other countries. It is possible that the only door where the burglar string is always left out for them, will be shut in their faces.

THE GREAT VAUDEVILLE

(Strathcona Plaindealer).
When the flying of appearances by the banks against the writs issued by the Provincial Government, demanding payment of the A. & G. W. bond money, a new scene in the big political comedy is opened. If the press despatches from Montreal may be credited, the house of Morgan is about to play a part that will transfix the eyes of the financial world upon Alberta. While Mr. Clarke may not have been the man of means the dimensions of his projects would indicate, he is in John Pierpont Morgan an ally who is abundantly able to supply the sinews of war that are so necessary to fight cases of the magnitude of these and he will not require to arrange an overdraft as any bank would. Doubtless the efforts of Morgan to force specific performance of the bond obligation will be conducted entirely outside the dispute between the Government and the banks and will be a cannoneading of the administration from a different direction. Indeed it looks as though Premier Simon would hardly have time to attend the coronation festivities next summer, as the ship of state will be running a gamut of batteries about that time which will require his presence on the bridge.

The Record Apple—Said to be the biggest apple in the world, a Gloria Mundi, weighing 27 oz., 5 inches in height, and 16½ in. in circumference, was sold at Covent Garden the other day for £17 14s. (over $70). It was grown at Mr. King's Acres Fruit Nurseries at Hereford (Eng.).

TAFT MUST MOVE IN ALASKA CASES

Pinchots Afraid President Is Playing Into Hands of Morgan-Guggenheim Interests

Washington, Jan. 9.—What President Taft will do with the Guggenheim monopoly in Alaska is the question brought up by the brief which Gifford Pinchot and his brother, Amos, filed with the president today. The Pinchots have put it up to the president to cancel immediately the Cunningham coal claims in Alaska, valued at twenty-five millions of dollars. The Morgan-Guggenheim syndicate has an option on these claims and the contention of the brief is that if the president allows them to go to patent, the advantages from their development will go straight into the pockets of the Morgan-Guggenheims.

The Pinchots in their brief express the fear that the president may avoid responsibility by turning the Cunningham claims over to a court.

"No transfer of the Cunningham claims to a court for a decision upon the records," they declare, "would relieve the executive department of responsibility."

The Pinchots declare "that the duty of the executive with regard to the Cunningham claims is obvious and immediate," that in their judgment the record "abundantly" proves that the claims are illegal and that the claimants have conspired to defraud the government. No resort to a court or hearing in the case is necessary to secure justice and protect the people's property. The case against the claims is already conclusive. The claim should be cancelled by the president forthwith.

Whether congress or Secretary Ballinger will take action to break up the monopoly which the Pinchots declare is "holding Alaska at a standstill, is another question which the brief brings up. The Pinchots say that the prompt development of the Alaska coal fields is of great importance, but that "today effective coal land laws make Alaska a forbidden land to coal operators."

They say that the late census figures show that in the last ten years the population of Alaska has increased one and five-tenths per cent. They attribute this to the fact that for years the industries of Alaska have been "largely in the hands of that great and oppressive monopoly, the Guggenheim syndicate, which has kept out other capital, throttled competition and held Alaska at a standstill in spite of its vast wealth in minerals, water-powers and fisheries."

They say that capital should be encouraged to develop Alaska coal-fields for the benefit of the people, but "this result can only be accomplished by the passage in congress of reasonable and practical laws for the disposal of the coal-fields in the interest of the people."

lent conspiracy to acquire more public coal lands than the law allows. They quote records to show that the charge of the work, for one week to Strathmore.

Two car loads of pure bred stock will be carried to these different schools and instruction will be given in breed types, feeding, breeding and care and management of live stock. The first week of each of the schools will be the live stock week, and the second week the following subjects will be taken up:

(1) Grain, Soil and Weeds—"The Growing, Judging and Grading of Grains," "Soil Cultivation," "Noxious Weeds," "Grasses and Fodder Crops." Samples of grains and weeds will be used for demonstration.

(2) Poultry—"The Housing," "Feeding," "Hatching," and "Rearing." Incubators and brooders will be in operation. Birds will be fattened, killed, dressed and packed for market.

(3) Dairying—Instruction in dairying will cover the subject from the production of milk to the marketing of the finished product, with farm dairy machinery in operation.

At each course there will be judging competitions held, and prizes offered for proficiency. The schools will be held as follows: Beginning at Strathmore, February 6th to 11th, inclusive; Macleod, February 13th to 25th, Vermilion, February 20th to March 4th, Innisfail, February 27th to March 14th. Prizes will be awarded at each of the schools in the judging competition, and then a Grand Challenge trophy will be offered by the provincial department of agriculture, at the Innisfail school for competition to teams from the four schools, these teams to consist of four men standing the highest in the local competitions.

Coach, Stettler, Macleod, and Vermilion will have their expenses paid to some extent by the boards of trade in the towns. These short course schools are entirely free and open to anyone who cares to attend. The boards of trade and agricultural societies in the different towns in which they are held are making arrangements so that the board of students attending the schools may be obtained at a reasonable rate. The department has secured the services of some excellent men in connection with these schools. Among these is Prof. W. L. Carlyle, Dean of Agriculture in the Idaho State University, Moscow, Idaho, who will take the judging classes in heavy horses and beef cattle. Arrangements are not yet completed for all the teachers; at the schools but the services of some excellent men, as well as men in connection with the agricultural department, will be given to the classes in these several schools. The Dominion department of agriculture is also assisting, by giving services of Messrs. Hutton of the Experimental Farm, Lacombe, Fairfield, of the Experimental farm, Lethbridge and W. C. McKelvey, of the road department in Calgary. These schools will be in charge of H. A. Craig, superintendent of fairs and institutes.

ways, in mines, in factories, in streets, farms and forests, by road and water," said Captain Birdwhistle.

To this end, all the classes, and simple instructions involved in them are directed. Wherever men are exposed to accidents and injury, it is desired to see a proportion of their number able to render first aid to a victim in a scientific way. Trained first aid men are often able to save a man's life by being on the spot and avoiding delay. It is desired to see the policemen and firemen instructed, and capable of rendering the assistance which their vocations often offer them the occasion to use so frequently.

"The work of the association, however, does not confine itself to instruction merely in first aid. We give courses in house wiring, and sanitation, and other subjects which are of utmost importance. The courses are open to any one. The instruction is given by doctors in the city with whom the association makes the necessary arrangements. Courses include one lecture a week and last about six weeks. Text books are furnished, and the cost of the course is very little."

The St. John Ambulance Association is not an annex to the Militia Department, but a purely civil organization which has been in existence for many years. The parent body is the Grand Priory of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem in England, which got its existence from the Crusaders. The Canadian branch was organized last February, at Ottawa, with the Governor General and Countess Grey, as Patron and Patroness. Sir Thomas G. Shaughnessy, K. C. V. O., is the Honorary President; Dr. F. Montizambert, D. G. P. H., President.

Capt. Birdwhistle, in addition to his duties as secretary of the St. John's Ambulance corps, is also general secretary of the Dominion Rifle Association, of Canada, and has charge of the equipment of all Canadian teams going to Bisley. He states that a good team will be going this year. He is also general secretary for Canada of the Boy Scout movement, organized by Sir Robert Baden-Powell, and whose Canadian head is Earl Grey. Capt. Birdwhistle will probably inspect the boy scouts of Edmonton while here.

NEWS FROM THE SISTER CITY

S'CONA'S BUILDING PROGRAM FOR 1911

Expected That Over Million and a Half Will Be Expended This Year

Strathcona, Jan. 9.—As the page of 1911 rolls backward there is disclosed in the lists of civic advancement a program of building certainties for Strathcona which assures the greatest extension in structural work the city has ever put through in twelve months. In the year just closed a record was undoubtedly established in building growth along substantial lines but the season soon to open promises to exceed these figures by several thousand dollars.

A very conservative estimate shows that one and half million dollars will probably be spent in construction work within the corporation limits during the next dozen months. This would just about double the amount expended during 1910. While it is not possible to determine accurately this early period in the year just past building will be gone ahead with during the coming summer it appears likely that the estimate given above will fall short of the total considerably.

The largest corporation expenditure will be made by the Canadian Pacific company. As the principal part of the high level bridge is to be constructed on this side of the valley Strathcona's share of this year's building will reach well into the six figure class. Added to this construction work will be the grading and extension of the railway from the present line to the bridge, in no inconsiderable contract. At the yards there will probably be other large additions to the present facilities. With at least four daily incoming passenger trains certain next spring on the company's side entering from the south and east there will be necessary many costly improvements to the round house and other buildings in the local yards, though everything is excellently arranged for the accommodation of the present service. It is safe to say that the C.P.R. expenditure in Strathcona during 1911 will reach half a million dollars.

Another railway system which plans largely for the city is the C.N.R. Already nearly $100,000 has been assured or paid out by the company for their right of way into the city. The terminal site near the C.P.R. depot will probably be graced shortly with a substantial station and with the southeast line completed next fall and the southwest line to Calgary under construction the city's expenditure of the company in the year will be above another $100,000.

University Building. Next to the railway development comes the extension work on the University grounds. Last year saw nearly $300,000 expended on the west end educational site and the immediate locality but this year should witness much greater development. The half million dollar Arts building will be pushed upward to the extent of probably $200,000 and the several residences for the professoriate last year. Thousands of dollars are promised on the residential building list in the district surrounding the University grounds for the coming season.

Other City Building. In the business section of the city it is still too early to state with certainty what will be done in the way of business blocks construction. On the handsome post office and armory buildings there will be expended at least $100,000. Work has already started on the post office and the plans for the $300,000 armory are all finally approved. The city's quota to the construction list will undoubtedly be heavy a bit last year. $38,000 will be spent early in the spring on Mill Creek bridge and the extension of the sewer system alone will reach $70,000. With water line extensions, sidewalks construction, parks improvements, paving, and a multitude of other civic needs to be looked after the citizens may look forward to at least $100,000 being spent in larger works alone.

After a delay of several years it now appears highly probable that the new hospital will be erected this summer. The building was postponed for the purpose of making arrangements with the University for affiliating it ultimately with the provincial medical college and it is understood that the erection of the institution may

ENGINEERS TAKE REGULAR EXAMS.

Nearly One Thousand Have Taken Examination in Province During Past Year

Strathcona, Jan. 9.—The first local examination in the new year for engineers was held last Saturday in the Orange hall by provincial holder of the certificate of the city. Five candidates wrote being nearly all railway construction employees. These examinations are held regularly in Strathcona on the first Saturday of each month. Mr. Fraser conducts the tests in other parts of the district and during the past year examined between one hundred and fifty and two hundred candidates in engineering. From five to ten candidates write on each examination in this city. The other inspectorate centres are Red Deer, Calgary and Lethbridge and a number of engineers writing at these places brings the total for the year around to the thousand mark for the entire province.

Raided House.

On a charge laid by Inspector Paul of the Provincial License department, Belle Moore, proprietress of a newly established resort in the southern part of the city, where women entertain guests of the place, brought before Police Magistrate Downes Saturday, and upon pleading guilty were fined together $130 with costs for being found with liquor on the premises. Belle Moore was fined $100 and each of the other girls $15, the costs amounting in all to $175. "The resort" appears the resort was opened only a week ago, just south of the St. Louis hotel and the chief of police immediately planned to bring about their departure. Friday night he visited the place with other members of the force and gave notice that the inmates would have to quit the town within twenty-four hours which they prepared to do. Between five and six o'clock in the morning however the license department men came along and rounded up a trio for illicit dealing in liquor. When found by the detectives the women were packed ready for a speedy departure from town.

Summers himself and the excellent Summers Stock company will start an engagement at the Empire tonight opening with "The Wrong Mr. Wright" a comedy full of laughable situations and the very funniest complications ever. The entire company is the most capable that has ever before been carried by any stock company, there not being one weak spot. At the same time they carried for their productions and the wardrobe is beautiful. This season they carry a coterie of Vaudeville performers who introduce pleasing specialties between the acts. Seats are fast selling for tonight at the box office.

Mrs. Travis-Barker and Miss Southall's efforts providing adequate to meet efforts made on behalf of the sick, the destitute hospitals and nearly four hundred children.

HAROLD P. BROWN, Certified Accountant.

Mrs. Travis-Barker, in handing in her report, speaks most prayerfully of the warm-hearted greeting Miss Southall and herself received everywhere, and declared that but for the great amount of assistance rendered in cooking, baking, sewing and visiting, and the cheerful response of nearly 50 ladies, more than $1000 would have been necessary to do the work. Many of the generous-hearted public had their donations ready. But two half-days were necessary to collect. More than 100 new dresses were made. Over 400 received new garments. Perhaps some of the ladies received but the ladies' greatest concern is not this class, but they who deserve, who are unintentionally overlooked. It is not the great amount of money at your disposal, declared Mrs. Barker, but how you use it; there the success lies. Some little minds will ever be active formulating barriers of jealousy, such stumbling blocks may easily be turned into stepping stones of success, if motive and heart is right. At the request of Mrs. Barker, a grant of $150 was given to the Balaich Mission for rescue work. The ladies at that home, in her opinion, are doing great work among fallen sisters, and are worthy of support. A grant of $50 to the Children's Aid has also been given on recommendation of the same ladies. The ladies conveyed to the council many good wishes from the public that the Edmonton and District Council United Aid will continue the good work so large a representative board are engaged in.
